Who is Kiersten?

To most who know her, Kiersten Parsons Hathcock is a Shark Tank-winning, self-taught carpenter & furniture designer who defied the odds and built an internationally-known furniture company out of her garage. But what most don't know is that she's also an ordinary woman who was thrown into extraordinary circumstances at the age of 36 when she suddenly started seeing and hearing spirits of dead children, some of whom were killed by predators. Her intuitive awakening led to partnerships with detectives around the country and a publishing deal for her soon-to-be released memoir called Little Voices, out September 20th. But it doesn't end there. Little did Kiersten know at the time, the kids weren't just coming to her for help...they were coming to save her life.
